We work as an extension of your IT team, providing cost-effective solutions that allow you to do more with less headcount. With Help Desk User Support, your business gains a strategic mobility partner dedicated to your success.

Device Inventory Management

With a large number of users, and multiple devices per user in most cases, device inventory management can become unnecessarily complex and expensive. You need a solution that can simplify and streamline your mobility program. Spectrotel's mobility experts will implement a concise device catalog, and manage data points such as End User assignment, Upgrade Eligibility and Warranty coverage – giving you peace of mind that your mobility spend is maintaining a high return on investment.

Mobile Device Management (MDM)

Spectrotel's MDM boosts your productivity and efficiency, allowing your employees to work anywhere with their preferred devices (company-owned or BYOD), securely and easily. With MDM, you minimize risks and challenges associated with managing firmware or software issues and can secure devices if they happen to be lost, stolen, or not returned by former employees. You benefit from seamless deployments, updates, and troubleshooting for apps and settings, reduce your device downtime, and support costs.

Wireless Expense Management (WEM)

Wireless supplier invoices change dynamically across a large organization for a variety of reasons. Maybe your business has seasonal peaks and valleys or maybe you're dealing with high employee turnover. Either way, your wireless invoice can vary widely from month-to-month, and this could result in overspending. We proactively audit and monitor your wireless usage patterns through automation and predictive insights, and we suggest ways to optimize your plans according to your specific business needs and preferences, saving you money and preventing overages.

End of Lifecycle Management

When devices inevitably come to end-of-life, you've got options. Spectrotel finds the best way to extend the value of your mobile devices through securely wiping your data, re-provisioning, reselling, and recycling them for you, streamlining the process and helping you meet your sustainability pledges.
